Mindful WOMAN LEADERS

Join us

for a stimulating panel discussion of government leaders

"Providing Healing, Providing Hope".

This workshop is a panel discussion on the concept of what it takes to be a great leader in today's society and the resilience of women to adapt and cope with extenuating circumstances. We will discuss the advantages of being present in thought and consciousness with all your goals and objectives. Women have shown that in times of trouble when we show ourselves adaptable and strong. This country would not be able to stand without women and our innate ability to provide healing and provide hope.
